

Environmental Policy

Copper Projects recognises the potential environmental impact of our operations and are committed to minimising these through:

- Compliance with all current relevant legislation, best practice and regulations;
- acknowledge and review the potential environmental impact of our activities on each project and endeavour to actively reduce it;
- minimise waste and specifically landfill on every project;
- involve and train our employees to understand the environmental impact of our operations and measures that can be taken to reduce it;
- maintain a programme of continual improvement in environmental performance incorporating suitable measurement and monitoring mechanisms;
- work with and encourage key suppliers to develop best practice; and
- promote through our design, the use of local and environmentally preferable suppliers and products.
